

David R. Bohm

David Bohm is an experienced litigator, primarily representing clients in employment, trademark, contract litigation, and alternative dispute resolution.

He has extensive government relations and administrative law experience, representing clients before various federal, state, and local licensing and regulatory agencies. David has litigated claims and advised clients concerning hazardous waste remediation and regulations relating to transportation of hazardous materials.

His appellate law experience includes argument of numerous cases before the Missouri Supreme Court, the Missouri Court of Appeals, and the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals. He has been involved in briefing cases pending in the U.S. Supreme Court and several other federal Circuit Courts of Appeal.

Prior to joining Danna McKitrick in 1992, David served as an Associate St. Louis City Counselor for over six years. He represented the City in a variety of disputes and transactions, drafted state and local legislation, and provided legal counsel concerning the City's environmental compliance and enforcement efforts. He helped establish, and was legal advisor to, the St. Louis City Local Emergency Planning Committee, created pursuant to the Federal Emergency Planning and Right to Know Act.

Since joining the Danna McKitrick, David has drafted several bills which have subsequently been enacted as state statutes including the Missouri Religious Freedom Restoration Act and a law permitting social service agencies to act as guardians for disabled individuals.

David received the Albert "Red" Villa Human Rights Award from the St. Louis Civil Rights Commission in 1992 and the Jurisprudence Award from the Anti-Defamation League in 1994.
